

What Our Parents Are Saying

Quest was the recommended choice due to their experienced coaching staff and development of the whole swimmer. We could not have found a better fit for our swimmers. We have found that the coaches learn to read the swimmer and coach to their individual needs, taking their individual personalities into account.

Quest strives to develop swimmers in and out of the water by building strong character and teammate relationships. We have not only found our sport at Quest but we have also found a family with this team.

Our family is so thankful for Quest and their wonderful coaches. As a coach of a different sport, I understand the importance of connecting with each athlete on their level. Quest is the perfect example of this as every coach spends time with every athlete mentoring them both in and out of the pool. Quest coaches are not only concerned with every athlete as a swimmer, but also, as a person! Quest is a great team that develops great swimmers and raises great teammates!

Quest Swimming has been exactly what we were looking for in a swim program for our three kids! They have received top notch coaching, built great friendships & the homeschool training group has allowed their various age groups to practice together, which has been the perfect fit for our family's schedule!

Quest Swimming is more than just a swim team - it's a true family! My daughter joined 4 years ago and has not only learned the technique of each stroke, she has learned the game of racing, good nutrition, goal setting, healthy competition, and being a cheerleader for teammates. Practices are hard but the coaches make them fun with Well Wednesdays, Relay Fridays, holiday-themed practices, etc. In addition to the amazing coaches, the Boosters and parents are very supportive as well. Carpools, Back-to-Pool nights, Questival, etc. it's been nice to have fun outside the pool and make lifelong friends!

Quest has taught my son the technique of swimming, the game of racing, and the confidence to become a better swimmer. My son has grown as a person and a swimmer because of his experiences through Quest.

The coaches know each of the kids and will coach them based on their needs and personalities. We are proud to be a part of the Quest family.
